

Your text is in safe hands

I offer text assistance in close collaboration with you as an artist

Twenty years of work within fields like performance and film have made me comfortable composing texts - in formal as well as poetic ways of writing.

Since finishing my philosophy degree I've written for others, too - dancers, filmmakers, and visual artists, among others. So far I've produced texts for catalogues and applications, composed project descriptions and the preface of an art book, and been part of a manuscript collaboration.

I'll be there for you, whether you need a copywriter, an author, or merely want someone to edit your own written work.

Get in touch, and we'll sort out the fee and other practicalities together!
